

Style & Selection

Jessica Zoob

This year's Spring trends are a calming combination of grey and pastel tones highlighted by copper accessories or occasional gloss highlights. The gentle blend of muted colours is not only easy on the eye but the unfussy, utilitarian style helps create a relaxing atmosphere just as our bodies and minds are awakening to Spring.

Muted tones are easily dressed to suit any interior trend so go for a simple yet practical sofa which suits your needs in a subtle natural colour. This way, whatever the season, you can add accessories and keep your home looking fresh without spending a fortune. These scatter cushions by Jessica Zoob are a beautiful way of dressing your sofa this Spring and available for a limited time only, this sofa complete with five of them, is on display at our Farnham showroom.

This Spring is about keeping things simple. Choose just one or two colours to bring your room to life. Using soft pastel shades help relax our bodies and minds after a busy days work, pair them with bold statement pieces to save your living room from becoming dull and boring. Metallic colours, specifically coppers show no sign of going anywhere so why not invest in a feature piece such as this large copper clock. We're also beginning to see the use of mixed metals so don't be afraid to use copper, gold and silver together. When using bold, decorative pieces, be sure to allow space to flow around them to help bring the object to life.

Try introducing bold graphic patterns to your tranquil environment. Striking designs will add a new dynamic to your living space whilst still keeping a fresh, contemporary feel.

We're always hearing that you can make a small room appear bigger with the use of mirrors and whilst this is true, you shouldn't feel put off from using them in large spaces too. Mirrors help create openness and transparency in rooms of all shapes and sizes – perfect for embracing the freshness of Spring! Using seasonal cut flowers is a beautiful way of softening any space and always leaves a gorgeous aroma to welcome guests into.

At Vale Furnishers we pride ourselves on being able to offer one of the largest furniture collections in the South East, so between our two stores, you're guaranteed to find something you love. We also stock a wide range of accessories for all those finishing touches – making your house a home.
